Librarian Retires Today, Report for 1950 Reflects Successful Administration

In their annual report for the year 1950, the board of trustees of the Robbins Library paid glowing tribute to the work of Mrs. Lucinda F. Spofford, head librarian, who retires today after 23 years service to the Town.

The report, signed by Wilson D. Clark, Jr., chairman of the board, states in part:

"The year 1950 completes the final full year of Mrs. Lucinda F. Spofford's tenure of office as Librarian because of the retirement Act in effect in Arlington.

"Mrs. Spofford came to Robbins Library Jan. 2, 1928. The years that have followed, 23 of them, have been full of problems but her training and experience was a valuable asset in solving them. It is the experience of the present board, and no doubt of previous ones, that she has maintained an active interest in library progress, modern methods developed in a changing world, and has kept the Board informed of new trends and methods in library activities.

"Mrs. Spofford is responsible in a large measure for the continued growth of Robbins Library, which has kept pace with the development of the Town and the citizens using its services. It is with sincere regret that her retirement is mandatory but the Board feels that when the Library closes on Feb. 8, 1951 she will at best know that her accomplishments are very much appreciated."

Editor's Note: The secret of Mrs. Spofford's success as a librarian and of the high standards prevailing in Arlington's public library and branches is largely due to the fact that the retiring librarian thoroughly enjoyed and understood her work. "I can't understand anyone staying on a job he doesn't like," she told this writer a few days ago. Still very active and possessing good health, she hopes to continue to do some work in a similar field, and to make Arlington her home.

Mrs. Spofford Reports
Mrs. Spofford's report to the trustees for the year just ended shows that the Robbins Library now boasts 86,929 volumes and of this number 5,739 were added during 1950. During the past year the library has lent for home use no less than 262,357 volumes, of which 160,097 were of fiction. The total circulation is an increase of 6,390 over the previous year. (The demand for non-fiction is surprisingly large, Mrs. Spofford told the NEWS).

During the past year, 2,358 new borrowers were registered, bringing the total number of borrowers to 30,186.

Arlington Home Heavily Damaged By 3-Alarm Fire

Firemen from six communities helped Arlington firemen battle a general alarm fire which caused damage unofficially estimated at more than $20,000 to the 22-room duplex house at 157 Massachusetts ave., early Monday morning.

The 2½ story wooden dwelling is at the corner of Massachusetts ave., and Marathon st., and firemen raised water curtains around the burning building to prevent the flames from spreading to nearby stores and homes in the thickly settled area.

Several firemen escaped injury when a hot air explosion shattered the roof at the height of the fire, the most spectacular since the general alarm fire which destroyed a large ice house on the shore of Spy Pond 20 years ago and the more recent fire that levelled the clubhouse at Arlmont Country Club.

Half of the dwelling is unoccupied and the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Marino Scalfidi, the only occupants, fled to safety when they were awakened by smoke shortly before midnight Sunday night.

The first alarm was sounded at 11:52. Fire Chief Richard J. (Continued on Page Seven)

SCOUTS' EXHIBIT DRAWS THROG

Arlington Boy Scouts, Cubs, their parents and friends "jammed" the Robbins Town Hall auditorium Saturday afternoon and evening for the District "Scouter" which highlighted Arlington's observance of National Boy Scout Week.

More than 3,000 participated in the day's activities, it was estimated.

A score of interesting exhibits set up by various troops and packs in neatly built "booths" of white birch drew the attention of everyone who entered the auditorium. There were so many things to see that it was practically impossible to "take everything in". To top it off, Cubs from Arlington packs presented a lively minstrel show, both in the afternoon and at night.

Adult leaders assisted the boys in planning the exposition, and the result was the best indoor demonstration of Scouting ever presented locally.

Ties for top honors for the best exhibit were Troop 41 which demonstrated Axmanship, and Troop 8 which stressed First Aid.

REGISTRARS RULE AGAINST O'BRIENS; ISSUE BEFORE COURT

Early yesterday, John H. O'Brien, candidate for Assessor, and William J. O'Brien, Jr., his twin brother, candidate for Sinking Fund Commissioner, petitioned the Superior Court for a writ of mandamus ordering the Registrars of Voters to include the words "LOWER TAXES" after each of their names on the ballot at the town election March 5.

In the petition they also asked for a temporary order restraining the Town Clerk from printing the ballots until the case is heard.

The O'Briens claim that the General Laws of Massachusetts clearly and specifically allow such a designation of principle to appear on the ballot.

The Registrars of Voters ruled Monday evening that the words will not be allowed to appear. The reason set forth is that the designation LOWER TAXES does not embody a principle.

The Registrars also voted to rule out such designations as World War II Veteran, and business school dean from nomination papers filed by three town meeting members, according to Town Clerk James J. Golden.

"Beat The A-Bomb"

Civil Defense Director Daniel J. McFadden urged Arlington people this week to make it a point to see the special film, "You Can Beat The A Bomb," which will be shown at local theatres.

The picture is intended to reassure the public. It shows how a well trained family can cope with an enemy attack if it should occur.

The film will be shown at the Capitol Theatre Feb. 14 through 17 and at the Regent Theatre Feb. 18 through 21.

BUILDING PERMITS DROP

Selectmen Ask $25,000 Reserve

TOWN MEETING'S 'O.K.' NEEDED

The Board of Selectmen submitted to the Finance Committee Monday evening a request for $35,000 for the purchase of Civil Defense equipment, in addition to $5,248 for administration of Civil Defense during the current year.

The $35,000 was requested by the Selectmen on the basis of a budget submitted by Civil Defense Director Daniel J. McFadden. The Selectmen also requested the Finance Committee to set aside $25,000 in its reserve fund for additional Civil Defense needs that may be required before the end of this year.

These amounts must first be recommended by the Finance Committee, after which they will be (Continued on Page Two)

3 Hurt, 2 Shaken As Car Overturns

Three persons were injured and two were shaken up when the auto in which they were riding overturned on the Concord turnpike at Lake St., late Tuesday night. All were taken to the Symmes Hospital in the police ambulance.

According to police, the driver, James T. Smith, of 24 Rawson road, Brighton, in an effort to avoid hitting a car making a left turn into the intersection, applied the brakes and his auto skidded and overturned. The car was towed away.

The accident was the most serious of a series of auto mishaps this past week, some of them due to icy roads.

Civil Air Patrol To Seek Recruits

A drive to recruit cadets for the newly-formed Arlington flight of the Civil Air Patrol will begin in the near future. Lt. John Wanmaker, commanding the flight, announced yesterday.

The Patrol, chartered by the Federal Government, has as its main purpose the advancement of aviation in all its phases. It is also intended to aid in civil defense and in such projects as "spotting" for fire-fighting groups in forest blazes.

Any physically fit girl or boy between the ages of 15 and 17 is eligible to join the patrol. This in no way makes them eligible to be mustered into the Armed Forces. As a member of the Civil Air Patrol Cadets, he or she will be given training in flight theory, navigation, and numerous other fields of aviation.

An assembly will soon be held at the Arlington High School where pictures will be shown describing the functions of the Patrol. At this time, interested students will be able to obtain applications for the Cadets. Interested readers may obtain information on the Cadets prior to this assembly by contacting Lt. Wanmaker.

Drive Extended

Because solicitors were unable to complete their calls due to bad weather last week, the Symmes Hospital Fund drive has been extended to Feb. 12. Contributions made thus far are considerably short of the $100,000 needed to defray the cost of alterations now going on at the hospital.

Timely COMMENTS

BY GUY
Abraham Lincoln

It took some years in Lincoln's case before he got his right place. It's rare, indeed, in any age, that such a figure trods the stage. The part he played drew small applause while he still lived... but that's because the world, at times, can't recognize a man's true worth until he dies.

The part that better wines and liquors play in gracious living cannot be over-estimated. Where moderation is the guide, the evening cocktail provides moments of perfect relaxation. voted on by the town meeting members at the annual town meeting next month. If the $35,000 budget is voted by the town and if an additional $25,000 in the Finance Committee reserve fund is earmarked for Civil Defense, it will provide a potential reserve of $60,000 since it is expected that either the Federal or State government will match, dollar for dollar, any amount appropriated for Civil Defense by cities and towns. "Approval of the above budget will put Arlington on a sound footing and it will prepare us for any emergency that may arise, with the exception of medical supplies which we assume will be furnished by the Federal or the State government," Director McFadden told newsmen at a conference Tuesday afternoon.

Mutual Aid Emphasized
It is understood that emphasis will be placed on mutual aid between communities in the event of an enemy air raid attack. Consequently, the responsibility rests on each community to set up an effective and properly equipped Civil Defense force of its own before it can approach adjacent communities with a request for mutual assistance.

The extent of Federal or State aid has yet to be defined, but once Congress acts, it is felt that communities will be "flooded" with directives to purchase specific type of equipment. This has been anticipated in making up the budget that will be submitted to the town meeting in March. The State, likewise, has been unable to formulate a definite program pending action by the Congress, according to Mr. McFadden.

The problem is complex, to say the least. Two choices are before the Town, Director McFadden reported to the Selectmen. First, "to gear ourselves for any major disaster that may occur by purchasing and equipping every phase of Civil Defense to handle any crisis; or second, to prepare for minor disasters by consolidating existing public and private resources (facilities and equipment) and acquiring only such materials and equipment considered essential, and at the same time prepare to receive from and to render mutual aid (to adjacent communities)." Director McFadden favored the latter course for the time being and based his $35,000 budget on that premise.

He produced figures showing that his deputy directors had originally submitted estimated requirements costing a total of $196,000. The Federal government has estimated the cost of equipment and supplies for one medical first aid station to be $21,000. Arlington has plans for two such stations and two auxiliary hospitals, according to Mr. McFadden.

(Eight thousand units of plasma might be needed initially for 10 percent casualties, at an estimated cost of $40 per unit, according to Mr. McFadden.)

No plans have been made for building expensive and elaborate air raid shelters locally.

Plan Three Major Groups
For the time being, three main groups will make up Arlington's Civil Defense organizations, Mr. McFadden said.

First, 80 auxiliary firemen will be recruited and trained. About half that number has already been recruited.

An auxiliary police force of 350 men will be organized. About 100 more volunteers are needed for this group.

Next comes the medical group, the size of which will never be limited since it is the intention of the Civil Defense Office to train every man and woman who is inclined in any way towards helping administer First Aid. These volunteers will be trained to help at the Symmes Hospital and at three hospital stations, the location of which has not been determined, pending the completion of survey now being made.

The School Department will launch a First Aid course for volunteer teachers next Monday with a series of nine two-hour classes scheduled. These will be given at the high school on Monday and Thursday evenings. Teachers may register with Joseph Gaudet. It is planned to have each teacher taking this course, in turn, give First Aid instruction to a group of 20 more volunteers. The process will be repeated so that, eventually, several hundred trained First Aid workers will be available in case of enemy attack.

A survey is already under way, also, of all privately owned jeeps, station wagons and panel trucks to serve as a pool for the transportation of the wounded, to carry supplies, and for evacuation work in case of need, the Civil Defense director disclosed. The survey will establish exactly where these vehicles are garaged, by whom they are driven, etc., so that they can be made available in an emergency.

Meanwhile, Director McFadden appealed to those who have already volunteered their services to fill out and return the questionnaires they have received from the Civil Defense Office. This will hasten the organizing of an effective volunteer force.

MISS MARY MURRAY

"How the Gospel Came to Trailer Towns" will be described by Miss Mary Murray at the third assembly of the School for Christians at the First Baptist Church next Sunday evening.

Miss Murray is a missionary under the Woman's American Baptist Home Missionary Society of the Northern Baptist Convention and has worked among the Crow and Hopi Indians until she entered upon her work in the defense areas around Detroit in 1942 as the first missionary to trailer camp communities. She has her own trailer, including a chapel, and from any one of many trailer camps where she parks for several weeks she drives it on a daily schedule to other camps within a radius of 25 miles.

During the hour from 7.30 to 8.30 devoted to the class sessions of the school, Dr. Edward Daigh will continue his presentation of the Old Testament by outlining the message of the great Israelitic prophets, while Professor Hedrick will lead the young people's group in discussing how the Christian should face up to his job.

A feature of the evening's devotional period will be special music arranged by Harvey Davies, chorister of the church.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Mrs. Timothy J. Buckley, State president of the American Legion auxiliary, has returned from Washington where she attended the annual Patriotic Conference at which the Legion auxiliary had 206 delegates.

While in Washington, Mrs. Buckley was entertained at luncheon by Senator and Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall and by Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers. She attended a session of Congress and visited points of interest.

Arlington Icemen
Lose to Melrose

By JIM DOHERTY

Melrose High's defending hockey champs clinched at least a tie for the G.B.I. title again this year by defeating Arlington, 5-2, at the Arena Saturday before 2500.

The game was much closer than the score indicated however and it may have been a different story if Larry Morgan had been in the nets for Arlington. Goals Robinson did a good job filling in for Morgan but a couple of miscues due to inexperience were costly.

The first period was evenly played until Arlington drew a penalty at the nine-minute mark. Melrose then pressed their man advantage and Bob Marsolais scored on a 25-foot screen shot.

The second frame was only 10 seconds old when Bill Vassil tied it with a 10-foot backhand. However, five seconds later Marsolais fired from the center-ice zone and the puck went under Robinson's stick to give Melrose the lead and Arlington couldn't catch up.

Andy Cloria scored two more for Melrose in the second period to make it 4-1. In the third period, Dick Kennedic got one for Melrose and Don O'Brien registered for Arlington to make the final score 5-2.

If Arlington can knock off Cambridge Latin at the Garden Saturday they will stand a good chance of coping runner-up honors.

MELROSE—G. Whynt; rd. Lee; ld. Hennigar; c. Kennedic; rw. Cloria; lw. Marsolais.

ARLINGTON — G. Robertson; rd. Higgins; ld. Timmons; c. Vassil; rw. Coolidge; lw. O'Brien.

Melrose alternates — Trail, Kelley Connolly, Dewnap, Ryan, Stevens, DeLouis.

Arlington alternates — Cronin, Noyes, Healey, Bennett, Reimer.

First Period—Melrose, Marsolais (Cloria) 9:18. Penalty—Timmons (smothering puck).

Second Period—Arlington, Vassil (unassisted) 0:10; Melrose, Marsolais (unassisted) 0:13; Melrose, Cloria (unassisted) 4:47; Melrose, Cloria (Marsolais) 7:28. No penalties.

Third Period—Melrose, Kennedic (unassisted) 2:26; Melrose, Kennedic (Hennigar) 7:54; Arlington, O'Brien (Vassil) 8:37. No penalties.

CALL and DELIVERY SERVICE

Commuters' Column

You and Me and the Other Fellow

"Do you think the old 8:08 will run today, Dad?" asked my 12-year-old son as my family assembled for breakfast last Monday. "The radio said the situation is bad."

"From what I hear, I think the B and M will run, Son, but a railroad strike such as this points up how much everybody in the United States is dependent upon the other fellow."

"That's right," said my high school daughter, "without trains we certainly wouldn't have such a variety of foods as regularly as we do today."

"And that goes for an awful lot of other things as well," I broke in, "for our country has grown on mass production and mass distribution, and so far there has been no form of transportation that can move as many things and as many people as far and as quickly as the railroads."

I took my last sip of coffee, glanced at my watch and started for the train. Curious, I thought to myself, it was about this time last year that the coal strike caused inconvenience in commuter services. I couldn't help a passing thought, too, about the many travelers who were stranded when trains stopped running. And as my train pulled in, I realized again how much in life, in this particular day and age, is dependent upon co-operation.

Circulation of children's books for the year 1950 at the main library, branches and in school libraries totaled 83,132, a gain of 2,162 over the previous year. Significantly, the East Branch, which is now located on Massachusetts ave., accounted for 4,304 more volumes while the Junior Library showed a loss of 3,484 in circulation, indicating that children, like adults, take advantage of the branch and school libraries "near home."

Through the opening of two additional school libraries during the past year many more children have become library conscious, Mrs. Spofford reports.

Throughout Mrs. Spofford's report there is evidence of the close cooperation that exists between the library and Arlington schools. "Work with the schools has played an important role in the year's work," Mrs. Spofford states in her report showing that last year two additional school libraries were opened, at the Bishop School and at the Hardy School. This raises the total school libraries to five. The total school circulation last year was 15,941. School children are selected to serve as "Young Librarians."

Many activities and exhibits were planned at the Junior Library for children during 1950. In most cases, the children themselves were encouraged to plan and set up the exhibits. Recordings of old favorites, such as Cinderella and Treasure Island, have been introduced in the Story Hours for children. Girl Scouts have been given assignments and library projects to earn their Reader's Badge.

Television and Reading

How current international events and the development of television have affected the children's reading habits is noted in Mrs. Spofford's annual report.

She reports: "In the past year changes have occurred in children's reading interests which reflect various influences. The demand for cowboy stories certainly was greater. Indian stories were also popular with girls as well as boys. Older boys have been interested in science fiction and enjoy stories about rocket ships and other planets."

"The movie productions of Cinderella and Treasure Island caused requests for these books from children incapable of comprehending the vocabulary. A television broadcast of Tale of Two Cities had the same result. However, on the whole, it seems that the effect of television has been detrimental, and has disturbed the reading habits. Unfortunately, some boys and girls no longer have time for leisure reading, and seem to use the library only when a book report is due. This coming year the challenge to reading will be even greater."

(Editor's Note: It is quite evident that the responsibility still rests with the parents to see that their children take advantage of the better programs offered by television and do not confine their viewing to average offerings. For instance, television versions of "Carmen" and other operas which have been offered in recent months, have definitely appealed to children. So have some of the travelogues that television has offered to date. It is not difficult to conclude that if children are encouraged to watch these better programs it will arouse their interest in reading, for instance, about the operas they have heard of or the countries they have visited via TV.)

"Another trend in the past year has been an interest in world events reflected in requests for books on Russia and Korea, both non-fiction and fiction," Mrs. Spofford's report continues.

The branch libraries show increased use, Mrs. Spofford reports, and their hours have been extended for the convenience of the public. The removal of the East branch from the Crosby School basement to a store on Massachusetts ave., has been justified, Mrs. Spofford adds. She further quotes from the report of Mrs. Suzanne M. Molloy, who has charge of the East Branch, that "the new library set in a store has rewarded all efforts and money involved." Mrs. Molloy cites registration and circulation figures on which her conclusion is based.

Mrs. Spofford called attention to the many exhibits of taste and interest that have been seen in the gallery at the Robbins Library during the past year, and to the several special events of the past year, including the fine arts tea sponsored by the Woman's Club.

The report indicates that Mrs. Spofford's assistants have been busy not only with their specific duties at the library but have continued to offer a weekly bedside book service to the patients at the Symmes Hospital, have worked with school teachers and with the PTA to encourage interest in good reading. They have attended State meetings, book clinics, etc. Mrs. Spofford paid particular tribute to Miss Ruth Sampson who has worked with her the past 23 years. In this, her last report to the trustees, Mrs. Spofford expressed the wish "that all of the forward looking plans that have been talked about may materialize in the future." Some of these plans, which she hopes will be realized soon are:

1. More shelves for present book collection. 2. Microfilming of newspapers. 3. A room devoted to fine arts, books on music, architecture, painting and music scores. 4. A record collection. 5. An East Arlington branch library suited to the needs of its community.

The report, which will be included in the annual Town Report, covers 13 typewritten pages, single space, and contains a wealth of facts and figures reflecting the conscientious attention Mrs. Spofford has given to the many phases of Arlington's public library system.

ON PLAY COMMITTEE

Joseph X. Trainor, 19 Pine Ridge road, and Nicholas F. Troiano, 147 Lake st., are area co-chairmen of the Holy Cross Club's theatre night at New England Mutual Hall on March 8 for the Club's scholarship fund. This year's presentation will be "The Man of Sorrows," a Lenten drama written by Edward J. O'Donnell, star of the Boston Catholic Theatre Players group, who portrays the part of Judas in the production.

CATHOLIC WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. John J. Sullivan, president of the Arlington Catholic Woman's Club, announces a business meeting for Wednesday, Feb. 14, at 8 p. m. in American Legion Hall. This will be followed by a Valentine bridge and whist. Mrs. William Herlihy and Mrs. John Ryan are assisting her in plans for the bridge.

Hal Clancy to Address Brackett School P.T.A.

Hal Clancy, Boston Traveler war correspondent, will be the guest speaker at the Brackett School P.T.A. Fathers' Night program next Tuesday at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Clancy's assignments in Korea, Tokyo, Washington, D. C., and Aberdeen Proving Ground, which have covered more than 40,000 miles in the past 18 months, afford an unusual background for his reporting and interpreting of national and international news. The program will also include news picture films. Mr. Clancy's talk will precede the business meeting.

Tickets are now available for the fashion show to be given March 6 at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Edna Bedford will represent Filene's and use children attending the Brackett school as models.

With The Rotarians

John Penneck of Marblehead, physicist for Tracer Lab, Inc. spoke on "Peacetime Uses of Atomic Energy," at last Wednesday's meeting of the Arlington Rotary Club. Mr. Penneck told about the use of radio active iodine in the treatment of enlarged thyroid glands and the use of radio active material for the diagnosis of brain tumor. He demonstrated the Geiger tube and how it operated using material containing Cobalt. The use of Cobalt is now becoming more extensive in medical and industrial work because the cost is only a fraction of the cost of radium.

IN FASHION SHOW

Barbara Basso and Jean O'Donoghue, both of Arlington, will take part in the fashion show at Ursuline Academy, Boston, on Feb. 14 at 1:30. Proceeds will go to the Ursuline Missions.

Refreshments were served under the direction of Geraldine Merrill. The members are looking forward to a theatre party on Feb. 27 at the Wilbur Theatre where they will see "The Moon Is Blue."

The next Blind Circle meeting will be on Feb. 17 at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist Church when Miss Doris Wickwire, accordionist, will present a musical program together with the Junior Woman's Club Chorus.

"A MAN OF THE PEOPLE... A MIGHTY STATESMAN"

The present hour of crisis, when strong leadership in our Government seems to be sorely lacking, should make us appreciate all the more the qualities that made Abraham Lincoln a statesman.

It is fitting that the Governor of our Commonwealth should pay tribute to the great President who led his country through the dark days of the Civil War. Governor Dever's message reflects the feelings of many. His proclamation reads, in part:

"Eighty-six years have passed since Abraham Lincoln, 'The Captain of the Mighty Heart,' died a martyr's death and left a lonesome place against the sky. A giant among his contemporaries, he has grown in greatness with the passing of time to become universally recognized as 'the supreme American of our history'."

"Born in humble circumstances, reared in adversity, and tempered by sorrow and early failure, he built his life firmly upon the rock of faith in God and in his fellowman. Ever strong in his resolve 'To send the keen ax to the root of wrong, clearing a free way for the feet of God,' he preserved the Union, broke the chains of bondage, and established the pattern for a peace based upon mercy, charity and justice."

"Truly a man of the people, a great patriot, and a mighty statesman, in the fine human qualities he displayed throughout his private and his public life, he was an exemplar of the divine virtues. His name and deeds are rightly honored wherever liberty is exalted and loyalty revered, wherever there is respect for disinterested patriotism and sublime attachment to duty."

Let us hope that Lincoln's Day next Monday will serve as an inspiration to those in public office to try to emulate the Great Emancipator who put his country before himself in all his actions and words.

We congratulate the Arlington Boy Scout District of Sachem Council on its highly successful "Scouterall" held at the Town Hall on Saturday. This ambitious undertaking would have been impossible without the guidance of many adult leaders and the enthusiastic participation of close to 1,000 boys. The success of the affair depended on so many individuals that it is impossible to list them all. We salute the volunteer leaders, especially, who made this possible. To see boys of all nationalities and religious, working together harmoniously, was one of the best examples of democracy at work seen here in a long time.

Reader Against Change in Town Government

Dear Mr. Mansfield,—

I want to thank you for your article and editorial on the Town

Manager form of government that is being proposed for Arlington.

Your article was thought-provoking and we need to think and think seriously before we discard a town government that we know and understand for one we are doubtful about. It is a serious matter, especially in these serious times. Most people are so worried and engrossed in the world situation that it is not a good time to formulate a new town government.

This is the third time this matter has been agitated and during the years it has been before the public no one has attempted to tell us why we need a change. No one tells us what is wrong with the present democratic form of government.

Under the New England form of Town Meeting, Arlington became a good town, but we grew to be too large a town for that form so a modified form was adopted which is still a people's government and under that government we have developed to one of the best towns in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. This fact can be verified by any interested enough to check with the Division of Accounts or Auditors Department at the State House in Boston.

Few if any towns have as good credit rating. Our tax rate could have been kept down if we had borrowed instead of paying off our bonded indebtedness during the depression years, also by raising the assessments to very high figures as some nearby cities have done, but we paid our debt and built up a surplus to give us a start on a building program.

Even with this democratic form of government there is a lack of interest by a great number of our people in municipal affairs. We can expect less under a manager.

Sincerely,
A. R. DARNELL

When you take from the people the right to hold office, the right to vote for their neighbor for office there will be little interest in town affairs. Initiative and ambition will be destroyed.

If it is a purchasing agent they want, well and good, let's have one and, if necessary, an efficiency expert who will advise with the department heads, but not a man who will try to run the whole town. No man should have the power to abolish a department or create one without the consent of the voters. Nor should he have the power to transfer workers from one department to another, especially those under Civil Service, nor should power be given any man or men to transfer funds from one department to another after the town meeting members have voted the money for a certain department.

Thank you again for calling our attention to what is going on and for admonishing the voters to think.

Methodist Men Elect, Hear Talk On Atomic Bomb

Officers of the newly formed Methodist Men organization were elected at a dinner meeting in the Calvary Methodist Church last Wednesday evening.

Leonard Bradford presented the slate of officers. They are: John Johnson, president; Ernest Walston, vice-president and program chairman; Thomas Widger, vice-president; Lindsay Blathrow, secretary; Kenneth Slade, Jr., treasurer.

Everett Watt led the community singing with Clarence Peterson at the piano.

It was announced the next meeting will be held Feb. 28.

Guest speaker was Capt. Sidney Dalrymple, USN, medical officer attached to the First Naval District, who gave a timely talk on the Atomic bomb and its effects.

He said the A bomb injures its victims three ways. First, by its explosive force which can destroy buildings or do serious damage for two miles; second, by its scorching heat which can cause burns worse than a severe sunburn. (It can burn the bare skin at two miles and consequently the skin should be kept covered in case of an enemy raid; third, by atomic radiations that are like X-rays. A small amount of these rays will not harm the body but too much can cause death. Concrete and steel can stop these rays and that is why people are advised to seek shelter in cellars and subways in the event of an atomic bomb attack.

The power of all the X-ray machines in the United States does not equal the radiation of one A bomb. Capt. Dalrymple said people should fear atomic radiation because it is so much greater than X-rays.

After an A bomb explosion at ground level or under water, radiation danger may linger for hours.

Food or water that has been exposed to the air may be contaminated and should not be consumed after an atomic bomb attack, the speaker said.

With the Lions

Floyd H. Busch, section engineer in the meter and instrument division of the West Lynn Works of the General Electric Company, was guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Arlington Lions Club at the Old Mill Monday evening.

Mr. Busch spoke on light meters and other measuring devices manufactured by GE.

Lion Graffam, who has been manager of Kresge's in Arlington Center, has been transferred to the Kresge store in New Britain.

Miss Jo Anne Loud has accepted a position in Washington. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Loud of 28 Draper ave.

Air Force Promotes Frink To Colonel

Horace E. Frink, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Frink, Sr., of 54 Grant st., Waltham, has been promoted to the rank of colonel in the Air Force. It was announced by Air Force Headquarters in Washington. He is a graduate of Arlington High School.

During World War II, Col. Frink flew 40 missions as a B-17 pilot in Europe. While serving 25 months in that theatre, he was decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross with three Oak Leaf Clusters, the Air Medal with seven Oak Leaf Clusters and the Croix De Guerre with Gold Star.

—Albert Kellher of Arlington will be toastmaster at the annual Communion breakfast of the Immaculate Conception Holy Name Society next Sunday at the school hall following the 8 o'clock Mass.

Fire

Tierney ordered a second alarm at midnight and a third alarm at 12:40 Monday morning. Firemen from Cambridge, Somerville, Medford, Winchester, Belmont and Lexington responded. Most of the neighboring firemen and apparatus assisted at the fire while some covered Arlington fire stations. At first only heavy smoke poured from the building as tons of water were pumped into the large dwelling, one of the town landmarks. Suddenly the blast let go. Three firemen, Robert McCaffrey, Joseph Aloso and Eugene DelGaizo, who were fighting the blaze from an aerial ladder on the Marathon st. side of the house, were thrown from their perch. Although stunned by the explosion, they grabbed a hose line and aid to the ground. Several other firemen who were battling the blaze from close quarters were knocked down by the force of the explosion, but none was injured.

As the explosion occurred, timbers and shingles were sent in all directions. Part of the roof caved in and the upper floor of the building became a mass of flames. The heat was so intense it could be felt from across Massachusetts ave.

So much water was poured into the burning structure that the surrounding area was flooded and at one spot near the house the water was almost knee deep. The Cambridge Fire Department chaplain, several doctors, Selectman Marcus N. Sorensen and Town Engineer James Keane were among those at the scene to give assistance if needed. The fire attracted hundreds of spectators and Arlington police from both the early night shift and the late shift were assigned to the area. MTA traffic on the Harvard square-Arlington line was delayed because of hose lines stretched across the avenue. The fire was under control about 3 a.m., but recall was not sounded until 7 o'clock Monday morning.

The fire was caused by spontaneous combustion in wood shavings that had been stripped from the living room floor of the unoccupied apartment and swept near a radiator by workmen, according to Chief Tierney. The apartment was in the process of being renovated.

Fire Damages House

Fire of undetermined origin caused heavy damage in the two-family house at 22 Moulton road Tuesday afternoon. The blaze started in the cellar and an alarm was sounded.

—Rev. John Nicol Mark will address the Billerica Woman's Club this afternoon.

Firemen Kept Busy

Firemen responded to an alarm for a fire caused by a short circuit in the first floor apartment of the two-family house at 102 Brooks ave., Sunday afternoon at 4. Damage was slight.

Early Friday afternoon, an alarm was sounded for a defective oil burner in the single-family house at 110 Mary st.

Late the same forenoon, an alarm was sounded for a fire in the second floor apartment at 54 Deatur st.

Boy Scouts

Second place honors went to Troop 7 whose Scouts demonstrated camp cooking and the use of reflector ovens. Troop 5 was judged third best for its bird study exhibit.

The judging was by three out-of-town Scouting officials, who viewed the exhibits individually at different times of the day and rated each display independently.

The awards were made on the basis of originality of the exhibit, true presentation of a Boy Scout activity, public appeal, boy participation and general attractiveness.

Other interesting exhibits included Troop 10's handicraft display, a replica of Troop 9's Quonset hut at Scoutland, Troop 13's display of signaling devices used by Scouts and Troop 8's display of campfires. Troop 6 had two exhibits, one on Firemanship and another on Safety, emphasizing prevention of accidents on highways.

The Cubs' displays were equally interesting. These showed the scores of novel and useful articles that are turned out at Pack meetings.

Two other exhibits in the hall were those of the Arlington Girl Scouts and the Arlington Campfire Girls, whose representatives were on hand to explain the work of these youth groups.

Last but not least, Sea Scout Ship 37 had a colorful exhibit in the lobby.

250 In Stage Show

The minstrel show presented by some 250 Cubs moved at a fast pace with W. Joseph Walker, Pack 20 Cubmaster and chairman of Cubbing for the Arlington district, as master of ceremonies. End men were Al Rivenburg, Mortimer French and William Bogardus.

More than 60 boys of Pack 13, of which George Lemos is Cubmaster, comprised the chorus. Mrs. Roderick J. MacDonald was pianist.

Several packs contributed specialties. They included Pack 6, Pack 7, Pack 86, which presented a miniature minstrel show; Pack 43 which contributed two patriotic tableaux; Pack 20 which repeated several of its specialties that were presented in the minstrel show previously reviewed in these columns; and Pack 87 whose hillbilly band, directed by Joseph Mazocco, was excellent. Joseph Gaudet led the Pack 13 chorus in a hymn dedicated to former Scouts now in the armed forces. The Pack 13 drum and bugle corps closed the program.

The smooth stage performance would have been impossible without the help of adult leaders. These included Mrs. Anne Magurn and Mrs. Mortimer French, who lined up the acts as the show progressed; Robert L. Reid, who, incidentally, was serenaded by the boys on the occasion of his birthday; Mrs. William Bogardus, who was piano accompanist for a specialty by Mr. Bogardus and their sons Billy and Bobby; and others.

An added attraction in the evening was the appearance of Troop 310 of Saco, Maine, a group of Scouts who presented authentic Indian dances under the direction of Scoutmaster Ray Ouellette. The boys appeared in colorful Indian costumes which they had made themselves. Unique lighting effects enhanced the presentation which was arranged by C. Warren Dilloway, former field executive in Saco Council and now field executive in Pinetree Council, York County, Maine.

Others who had a prominent part in mapping plans for the Scouterall included W. Dale Barker, chairman of the Arlington district of Saco Council; Horace Homer, district commissioner; Ralph Stevens, general chairman of the events; Harold N. Anderson, finance officer; Malcolm Masters who was in charge of the booth layout; Charles Buckingham, personnel; James Rourke, refreshments; and John Berry, public relations.

Out-of-town visitors included executives of Norumbega Council who stamped the Arlington exposition one of the best they had ever seen.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Fletcher have purchased the single-family home at 3 Stevens terrace.

Comet Club News

A breath of Spring pervaded the vestry of Calvary Methodist Church last Tuesday evening, when Comet Club presented a local florist in a most entertaining program, "Fun With Flowers."

Despite the bitter cold weather, 89 ventured to the Church, and were amply rewarded for their efforts as they enjoyed the many beautiful, vivid, and colorful flower arrangements, of varied occasions, as they were fashioned by deft, nimble fingers.

The chairman of the affair was Miss Ruth G. Philpott; in charge of tickets, Miss Gladys MacPhail; and Mabel Jones, and refreshments, Mrs. Robert Chandler, Jr.
